Andrew and Ella Marquet are the New Zealand Directors of Pais Movement an international organisation working on 6 continents with the vision of “Missionaries making Missionaries”. Andrew and Ella have over 20 years of experience in church and Christian ministry including time in South Africa and Mozambique with Iris Ministries. They have four children and a passion for equipping people to grow closer to Jesus and reach into their local community.

B R I A N & A L I C H A M P N E S S

New Wine Australia is led by Brian and Ali Champness who ministered for 5 years in the UK as Childrens and Families Pastors and were part of the New Wine Kids Leadership network. They ran “Boulder Gang” at New Wine UK which involved 600 children and 120 leaders. Brian and Ali have a passion to mentor childrens and families leaders who will reach this generation of children with the love of God and the good news of Jesus, in the power of the Holy Spirit.

B A Z I B A K E R

Bazi is the Worship Pastor of Grace Vineyard church. He is an accomplished song writer, recording artist, and all round nice guy. He graduated with honours in composition after studying Jazz in Christchurch.

B O B E C K H A R D

Bob is a minister in the Church of England in London. His main gifting and interest centres around helping people to realise their potential for Christ.

C H R I S T O P H Z I N T L

Christoph came to follow Jesus at a youth camp in Blenheim when he was 19 years old. This unexpected but beautiful meeting with Jesus totally changed his world, his dreams and plans to be a professional actor. Yes, Jesus saved him from Shortland St... and a lot of other things! He went on to become a youth/young adults pastor in Christchurch. Christoph currently lives in Wellington with his awesome wife and three amazing kids. As a family they are less than a year into planting a Vineyard church called 'The Story'.

COLETTE STEVENS

Colette has worked with children and families for over 30 years in both Christian and secular settings, overseas and throughout New Zealand. She works part time as an early childhood teacher and also for the Wellington Anglican Diocese as the Children and Family Enablers supporting, leading and discipling children and family leaders. She is passionate about making church accessible for all, mentoring others and intergenerational worship and in her spare time, she enjoys 20th century history, mystery novels and anything creative.

DEAN & AMANDA

Dean and Amanda have lived and worked in Asia for a number of years, walking alongside the marginalised in urban poor contexts. Over the past two years they have lived in the Himalayas, working with a national NGO which has teams spread across the country. Dean and Amanda's focus, with these teams, is child protection with an emphasis on human trafficking prevention. They deal with the complexities of poverty, strong gender and caste discrimination, harmful traditional practices, violent power struggles, and an unstable climate. Their work is aimed at addressing these core issues and building community resilience.

SPEA

JACKIE PULLINGER

Jackie has been working with the poor in Hong Kong for over 50 years and has seen remarkable results as lives are changed, healed and restored through finding relationship with Jesus and through the power of the Holy Spirit. Most of her work is with drug addicts, prostitutes, the homeless, young people and street kids.

JAMES BECK

For the last eight years James has spent his days working for Attitude, the youth education division of 'The Parenting Place' where he talks to people about things that most people avoid talking about. James has spoken to more people than he can count, which isn't hard cause he reckons he can only count to 326. He loves it because he gets to meet people from all backgrounds and talk about the passion he has for life, and how he found that passion when he met Jesus as a 19 year old.

JASMINE FIDOW

Jasmine is married to Nauma Maiava and they are active members of St. Martin's Presbyterian Church in Papatoetoe, Auckland. Jasmine's testimony of God's healing and restoring grace is what motivates her to impact as many people as she can through evangelism, preaching, teaching and the prophetic ministry of the gospel. Jasmine has much experience, both locally and abroad, in running Prophetic/Healing meetings as well as prophetic schools. Jasmine ministers powerfully in the prophetic and it is her heart to encourage and empower all to hear God's voice, respond to His love and be healed in the process.

KEEPERS

JUSTIN AND JENNY DUCKWORTH

They're not your average bishop and bishop's wife. Justin hails from Lower Hutt, has dreadlocks, and usually wears shorts and bare feet. He and Jenny pioneered Urban Vision, have a life focus on serving the poor, and live in community. They have both worked in youth and community work for nearly 20 years and in that time pioneered loads of different projects. The driving passion for Justin and Jenny is to see people equipped and encouraged, and to work together for a better world.

LYDIA READ

Lydia leads the team at New Wine and is never quite sure how that happened - but she's sure God has a sense of humour. An auditor, accountant and mother, she has shelved many of her interests such as flying and studying as she and husband Shane now lead Hope Vineyard church in Palmerston North. Of course amazing teams make it all possible, which is great because if there's one thing that gets LJ humming it's God's church and being with ordinary people who live dynamic personal faith journeys.

SPEA

MARGARET KENDALL

A native kiwi Margaret served the Lord in New Zealand and England before going to Hong Kong in 1987 as a Bible educator. She helped Jackie Pullinger informally by sharing her house with recovering drug addicts before joining St Stephens' Society fulltime in 1990, serving with them in many capacities until today. She has pioneered many ways, Biblically, spiritually and practically, to set girls and women free from slavery and bondage.

MARK JOHNSON

Originally from Minneapolis, Mark spent 17 years as part of an international youth mission organisation that contextualised the gospel among secular and post-Christian youth culture. Mark was one of the founders of a ministry for anarchists and atheists that eventually grew into a church called the Salvage Yard. He spent many years doing unconventional ministry, including running a 'Jesus Kitchen' at new age festivals, fronting an evangelistic/worship punk band and feeding people on the streets. He also travelled around the world speaking at festivals, churches, discipleship schools and conferences. Now an ordained priest in Newtown, Wellington, a chaplain and all round good guy Mark speaks at New Wine for the first time this year.

KEEPERS

PAUL MCINTOSH

Paul is the vicar of St Anne's Anglican church in Wellington, and is the father of two daughters. He enjoys the mess of mixing ministry and family life, and the joy of seeing people come fully alive in Christ.

RACHELDANN

Rachel grew up and lives in Palmerston North surrounded by a God-focused, people-serving, loving family. When not nursing, she serves at Crossroads as the Deputy Music Director and is part of the programming team for their Night church service. Rachel has a heart to teach others and to pass on what she has learnt along the way.

RICHARD BLACK

Richard is the founder and director of Strength to Strength, a counselling and training organisation. He is an ordained minister and a trained counsellor and works alongside churches providing specialised support for their pastoral care. Through this and his public speaking he helps people strengthen their thinking, be proactive in relationships, and succeed with life. As the Chair of the Trustees for New Wine NZ Richard is passionate about seeing churches fulfil their purpose in God.

SPEA

SAM HARVEY

Born and bred in Wellington, Sam grew up in the Anglican church and spent time on the mission field of South America back in the day. He was converted radically about 20 times throughout his teenage years and since then has studied at the Bible College of New Zealand and worked in various churches and organisations before moving to Christchurch to work as the Executive Pastor at Grace Vineyard's Beach Campus. Sam and his family have recently moved to Napier and will be planting a Vineyard church. Exciting times!

SHIRLEY CARMICHAEL

Shirley is LifeChurch's Worship Pastor and offers a wealth of experience leading worship and creative ministry teams, and has developed pathways for many young musicians and singers. More recently Shirley has helped establish a cultural ministry group whose vision is to connect bi-culturally through outreach and worship.

KERS

STEPHANIE JOHNSTON

Stephanie is the COO and Field Representative for Barnabas Fund New Zealand. She hails from Ohio USA where she was a youth pastor for 14 years. Stephanie travels throughout New Zealand raising awareness for the work that Barnabas Fund does with the persecuted church, as well as giving practical and necessary information on how to help suffering Christians.

STEVE GRAHAM

Steve Graham is a inspirational Bible teacher with a distinct prophetic edge to his teaching ministry. He is a member of the ACTS Churches of NZ National Leadership Team and serves as principal of Equip-pers College in Auckland. Steve has previously pastored the Westside Church in Christchurch and has led the Christchurch campus of Laidlaw College's Christchurch Campus. Steve has been involved in ministry as a youth worker, pastor and missionary.

SPEA

SYROGERS

Sy's unique life and 3 decades of ministry have inspired and encouraged audiences from London's Royal Albert Hall to many of the world's most influential pulpits. Regarded as a gifted communicator, award-winning talk show host, recording artist, and pastoral care specialist, Sy is a leading voice regarding sexuality, cultural themes and God's character. Married since 1982, Sy and his family have lived in Singapore, the USA and New Zealand. Currently based in New Zealand, much of Sy's ministry continues outside of North America.

VAUGHAN DENNISON

Vaughan is a family man with a heart for his community. Serving his sixth term as a City Councillor, Vaughan combines his passion for strong city governance with his desire to use his background in operational management in ministry. This led him to be part of the New Wine Executive team in 2017. Vaughan enjoys playing keys in his church worship team and can provide the fun while getting things done!
